Profile

Skilled in web development and design, I am currently focused on mastering Python, with experience in Java and proficiency in creating responsive, user-friendly websites using both traditional coding techniques and no-code platforms. With a strong background in robotics and teaching, I combine technical skills and hands-on problem-solving to develop effective digital solutions.

Additionally, I specialize in UI/UX design, blending creativity with functionality to craft intuitive and visually appealing experiences that enhance user engagement and elevate brand presence.
